

This is personal.

What inspired you to become the person that you are today? Was it your parents? Your church family? A specific teacher, coach, club or sport?

Chances are, what inspired you most was not part of the required general curriculum. That spark of inspiration, the one that encourages passion, is why the Sealy Education Foundation exists. We are here to provide our students with experiences and opportunities beyond the ordinary. Won't you join us, please?
